DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-18 have been examined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 USC 103(a) as unpatentable over Schein(US Pat. No: 6,226,623) in view of Weiss(US Pat. No: 5,866,889).
4. As per claims 1-18 Schein teaches a global financial services integration process incorporating online brokerage(col 7 lines 13-32)(Abstract)(Figs 1-5).Schein further teaches service providers and clients(Fig 1) as well as point of sale systems which may include brokerage firms(Fig 2/28) and customer service systems(Fig 2/26). Schein also teaches remote delivery systems(Fig 2/24) and messaging services(Fig 2/10).Schein further teaches checking balance inquiries(Fig 4) and debit checking and credit mortgage(Fig 4).Schein further teaches obtaining information relevant to a customer's financial health(Fig 7) as well as the customer maintaining other accounts(Fig 7/89). Schein also teaches the use of public and private networks(Fig 13/162)(Fig 11/140). In addition to that taught by Schein, Weiss also teaches opening a single integrated account at a financial services firm as a bank(Abstract) which also includes brokerage services(Fig 1/17) and mutual fund investments.Weiss further teaches relationship and product selection for a customer(Fig 2A/800) and the collection of brokerage information suitability data(Fig 2A/900). Weiss further teaches setting up a new account(Fig 2B/600) and a needs assessment being done on the client(Fig 2B/500) and choosing gold account and regular accounts(Fig 3A) and setting a financial goals strategy(Fig 3C).Weiss further teaches assets in checking,savings,IMMA,CDS,IRA and brokerage accounts in the integrated banking system(Fig 5A).Further,Weiss teaches credit cards(Fig 5A/10/11/12) as well as secured and unsecured credit (Fig 5A/8/9).Weiss further teaches that signer are in the profile or that a new signer is being submitted(Fig 5D)(Fig 5E) as well as a credit card account(Fig 5K).Weiss also teaches fund transfers(Fig 6B/2) and bill payment(Fig 6B/3) as well as automatic dividends deposit on securities and overdraft coverage(Fig 6B) and direct deposits(Fig 6F) and establishing a joint account where either party has access(Fig 8A) together with a PIN entry routine for another party(Fig 8A) as well as displaying the market value of the securities(Fig 10C). It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of the invention to combine Schein in view of Weiss to teach applicant's disclosure. The motivation to combine is to teach an improved system for accessing the services of a financial institution and for establishing accounts at the institution as enunciated by Weiss(col 4 lines 5-9).
